Quantix announces the opening of their new Port Allen, Louisiana location. Located at 1737 Highway 190, Port Allen, LA, broadens Quantix's already expansive network.

The Port Allen location boasts a state-of-the-art tank wash facility, and full-service maintenance facility featuring trailer service and repairs for wash customers.

"Expanding our network to better serve our customers is always front of mind for us at Quantix," says John Labrie, CEO & president at Quantix. "The key success metric for our customers has always been access to locations and services that allow them to move their products safely and efficiently. This location's tank wash allows just that by reducing turn-around time for trailing assets" says Labrie.

The opening of this facility brings with it 15 jobs and has the capacity to wash over 30 trailers a day. Uniquely, Quantix also offers the ability to wash tanks for carriers outside of their network. The facility is equipped to provide tank wash services for general chemicals and more.
